

Wilentz Will Not Balk Second Bruno Reprieve Nor Will He Give Consent

New Jersey Attorney General Adopts Passive Attitude and Will Leave Final Decision up to the Governor.

"WAS THE MAN"

New York Taxi Driver Clings to Story That Hauptmann Was the Man He Saw.

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press.)
Trenton, N. J., Feb. 28.—An authoritative source said today Attorney General David T. Wilentz, chief prosecutor of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, will not oppose a second reprieve for the convicted slayer of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's first son. Wilentz, the source said, will neither oppose the reprieve nor consent to it, letting Governor Hoffman make his own decision whether to delay further Hauptmann's death sentence.

The attorney general will remain passive on the governor's contention that more than one person was implicated in the crime, that the testimony of some state witnesses would bear closer scrutiny and that prosecution officials have withheld important information in the case.

Wilentz, the source said, does not believe any new evidence has been developed in the governor's private investigation. Private disagreement with the views of the trial jury, the Court of Errors and Appeals, the Supreme Court of the United States and the New Jersey Court of Pardons would not affect the decision, in Wilentz's opinion.

Hauptmann is under sentence to die the week of March 30. Governor Hoffman's reprieve of January 16, came 29 hours before he was to die in the electric chair.

Wilentz called that reprieve illegal, and the governor said he would not grant a second unless he and the attorney general agreed the circumstances warranted.

Prosecution officials said Col. Charles A. Lindbergh could corroborate at any time Millard Whitely's story that on the night of the kidnapping the logger insisted he had seen a stranger, whom he later identified as Hauptmann, prowling near the flier's estate a few days previously. Hoffman has questioned the identification.

Col. Lindbergh and several state troopers were in the party which visited Whitely's home a few hours after the kidnapping and prosecution officials said they "had no doubt" he would sign a deposition if necessary.

Clings to Story
New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Joseph Perrone, the Bronx taxicab driver who delivered a ransom note to Dr. John F. (Jafale) Condon during the Lindbergh kidnapping case, asserted today Bruno Richard Hauptmann "positively was the man who gave me the note."

"He is the only man I positively identified although I have looked at thousands of pictures," Perrone said in commenting on a statement by Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey questioning Perrone's identification.

Perrone said that in some of the pictures he looked at, he saw likeness of Hauptmann, but never positively identified any of them as the kidnaper.

Calmly Await Rescue
Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—With enough food on hand to last 10 days, Captain Charles R. Redburn and his crew of 26 aboard the grounded cargo ferry Ontario No. 2 calmly awaited today a rescue that may be several days distant. The job of dislodging the big coal-carrier that ran aground in Lake Ontario Wednesday night must await the reconditioning of the ferry's sister ship, Ontario No. 1, out of service for the winter, to tow the ferry off the shoal.

Cannon Given 20 Years To Life Term Sentence

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Edward Cannon, 27, was sentenced to serve a term of 20 years to life in prison today for the New Year's eve party murder of Hilda Price, 20-year-old waitress.

Tears streamed down Cannon's face when Supreme Court Justice Graham Witschell pronounced sentence. He was near collapse when a deputy sheriff led him from the court room.

Cannon was convicted earlier in the week of a charge of murder, second degree. The state claimed he bludgeoned the girl when she resisted his advances. His defense was that she fell from his automobile.

Several letters were handed to Justice Witschell by Cannon's counsel today.

The Poughkeepsie Evening Star and Enterprise said Mayor George V. C. Spratt wrote one of the letters and quoted him as saying he did so at the request of Cannon's father. He said he asked the court not to apply the maximum sentence, the paper said.

The Rev. Fred W. Stacey, pastor of the Washington Street Methodist Episcopal Church, said he wrote another of the letters, the Star reported.

Talmadge Begins Court Action on Mail, Ignores Impeachment

Atlanta, Feb. 28 (AP)—Governor Eugene Talmadge, ignoring talk of impeachment, started court action today to open mail channels to his two de facto fiscal officers.

The governor already has arranged for $2,000,000 in ready cash to run the state.

An injunction to force Postmaster Lon Livingston to release letters addressed to the officers whom Talmadge ousted Monday, Treasurer George B. Hamilton and Comptroller General William B. Harrison, was asked of Federal Judge E. Martin Underwood.

Tax remittances are among the impounded letters.

Talmadge took no cognizance of talk of impeachment and an exchange of views among state legislators relative to convening themselves in special session to untangle the financing affairs which resulted from their failure to enact an appropriations bill last year.

Members of the Georgia legislature have discussed impeachment freely in debating whether they could meet on their own call to straighten out the financial tangle that followed failure of the last legislature to pass an appropriations bill.

The chief executive's new funds came chiefly from the state highway commission, which turned over $1,550,000 to the governor, and from a bank at Rome, the only state depository which has recognized the de facto treasury officials named by Talmadge.

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press.)
Tokyo, Feb. 28.—Lieut. Gen. Kohei Kashi, assigned by the government to put down a military rebellion with martial law, announced tonight that his forces, surrounding the rebels, were "taking appropriate measures."

He issued a proclamation by radio in which he stated:

"The several hundred soldiers who started the disturbances early Wednesday morning are still holding the Negatacho section of Tokyo, but the commander of martial law administration is taking appropriate measures to deal with them."

"The troops under the command of martial law are acting under orders from the emperor, their discipline is strict and their morale excellent."

"Tokyo city, except for the Negatacho section, is perfectly calm, while peace and order prevails throughout the country."

The "disturbances" to which he referred were the assassinations of four of the nation's leading elder statesmen in a sudden attempt to overthrow the government.

The soldiers concerned defied the deadline set for their return to their own barracks and held ground in the heart of Tokyo.

Breaking their agreement to evacuate by 8 a. m. the central points they seized in their swift coup at dawn Wednesday, the 1,000 rebels maintained their grip on government buildings. Arrayed against them were more than 4,000 loyal troops.

In this tense atmosphere, the Domei Agency announced, new negotiations for a peaceful return of the insurgents to their quarters were opened between rebel leaders and officers of the martial law administration at the official residence of the premier, headquarters of the uprising.

Populace Warned
An exchange telegraph dispatch said the Tokyo populace had been warned to leave the vicinity of the premier's residence in view of possible "forceful measures."

Emperor Hirohito persisted in his negotiations for a new government to replace that of the assassinated Premier Keiroke Okada, with the imperial prince and officers of the army high command now wielding the predominant influence.

Under the insistence of the insurgents that their militarist ideals of government be fulfilled, Gen. Sadao Araki, "strong man," former minister of war and idol of the troops, was mentioned widely for the premiership.

(An unconfirmed report from Tokyo to Shanghai through diplomatic channels said General Araki had established a military dictatorship.)

Goto Hopeful
The government, still conducted nominally by former Home Minister Fumio Goto, who was named acting premier after the assassination of Okada, was declared authoritatively to be still hopeful of a bloodless settlement.

Government authorities, most anxious to avoid bloodshed in the heart of the capital likely to involve the civilian population, were unwilling to martyrize the rebels by employing force against them to re-assume the occupied posts.

A peaceful, unheroic termination to the crisis was sought, to throw the uprising in the light of a fiasco. A heavy wet snow was falling, and government officials hoped it would dampen the ardor of the insurgents.

Several Americans, who reported to the United States embassy that their movements had been restricted, were advised to remain at home until the trouble was ended.

Thus far, no Americans had been harmed in the rebellion which brought death to four liberal elder statesmen.

Loyal troops threw open a route for the rebels to proceed from their stronghold in the premier's residence to their barracks a mile away, but the rebels clung to their positions.

Americans Ejected
In addition to the premier's residence, they held the Peers' Club, the Koraku Restaurant and the Sanno Hotel—all in the center of the imperial capital. Several American tourists were ejected politely but firmly from the hotel.

The insurgents, about 1,000 strong, apparently were drawn principally from the First and Third Infantry Regiments of the First Army Division, known as the Tokyo Division.

Their highest officer is not a captain, Teruzo Ando.

A total of seven companies were believed affected by the uprising, a small number of artillery men and tank corps men joining the disaffected infantry regiments.

Against this force were ranged other elements of the First Division which had not entertained sympathies with the fascist sentiments of the affected regiments.

About 4,000 troops of the sixth division were brought from Kyoto to suppress the revolt.

Roosevelt Outlines Tax Program to Raise Over Billion for Farms, Bonus

President's Plan Includes $120,000,000, Called "Windfall", to Recapture Processing Taxes Refunded by Court Order.

INCOME LEVY

Roosevelt Says He Is Leaving the Method of Paying Levies to Congress.

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—A tax program designed to produce permanent receipts of $820,000,000 annually, with the addition of $500,000,000 to pay for this year's farm program and to be levied over a period of years, was outlined to newsmen today by President Roosevelt.

The later amount included what the president referred to as a "windfall tax" to recapture processing taxes which were refunded upon the order of the Supreme Court. He estimated it would produce $120,000,000.

In the category of permanent taxes, the president lumped $500,000,000 a year for the new farm program and $120,000,000 annually for payment of the bonus.

This sum, he said, would be sufficient to yield the treasury the entire cost of the bonus by 1945, the year in which it was due originally.

In explaining the program, Mr. Roosevelt spoke from a pencilled memorandum which listed the levies as follows:

Permanent taxes.
Bonus $120,000,000
Farm Program $500,000,000
Temporary reimbursement taxes $500,000,000
Total in round figures $1,120,000,000.

Total necessary $1,137,000,000.

The chief executive was emphatic in differentiating between new and old taxes. In the former category he placed only the annual $120,000,000 for payment of the bonus.

In considering methods of recapturing the lost processing taxes, Mr. Roosevelt said the possibility of a retroactive tax had been thoroughly explored. It was felt such taxes were probably constitutional, but worked many hardships.

The windfall tax, he added, would probably take the form of a levy on incomes.

In all instances, Mr. Roosevelt said, he was leaving to the determination of Congress the method of imposing the levies and suggesting only the amount needed.

It was the death of AAA, with its processing taxes, and the enactment of the bonus over the President's veto which knocked the big holes in the budget submitted last month.

Chairman Harrison (D., Miss.) of the Senate finance committee, was the spokesman as newsmen crowded around the conference outside the executive mansion.

"The conference was a full discussion of the whole fiscal condition of the government," he said. "The President informed the conference that next week he would send a message to Congress on the necessities and needs of the government for further money, with a suggestion for raising revenue to balance the budget for 1937."

Harrison left his listeners with the impression the tax bill would be considerably higher than the $500,000,000 originally contemplated.

However, another conferee, who did not want to be quoted by name, reported the bill would not be much above $500,000,000 and would include no taxes to cover the bonus.

This left no other conclusion than that the President believed increased revenues, above estimates, would care for the additional cost of amortizing the bonus by 1945, the original due date.

Flood Threats Less in U. S., Flier Seeks Girl, Miners Flee

Chicago, Feb. 28 (AP)—Flood threats diminished today with the continuation of subfreezing temperatures over most of the midwestern states.

Pennsylvania and Kansas were the principal exceptions. There ice jammed rivers continued to menace lowlands. A big ice gorge in the Allegheny river went out early today and moved on Pittsburgh, where a 30-foot stage, five feet above flood, was expected.

Rising steadily, the ice-jammed river sent the highest flood level in nine years into Pittsburgh after inundating parts of communities along its banks for more than 100 miles.

Waters spread over the river front streets in the city's downtown district, flooding cellars of homes and industrial plants.

House boat dwellers abandoned their homes as a 10-mile ice gorge moved slowly along the crest of the flood. Residents of river colonies clustered about bonfires, their belongings piled on the banks as they waited for the waters to recede.

Lower temperatures had not yet affected Pennsylvania rivers but smaller streams were reported full.

In Kansas more than a score of farm families fled their homes after dynamite failed to dislodge ice jams in the Missouri river near Oak Mills. Flood warnings were issued to farmers in the bottom lands and islands near Kickapoo.

The flood situations in California, Washington, Michigan, Ohio, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana were reported less menacing, although scores of families near the Missouri of Columbia were ready to flee their homes should huge ice cakes choke the channel.

Deaths of Child to Be Probed by Officials in Maryland.
Berlin, Md., Feb. 28 (AP)—The death of two-year-old Margaret Toomey, who, a coroner's physician reported, subsided only on corn meal and was given laudanum for medicine today.

Dr. Walter F. Somers, the physician said he believed the cause of death was "parental neglect."

State Attorney Thomas F. Johnson, answering "commodities in a blame," said he "will not rest" until a searching inquiry has been made.

The child died last Saturday in the two-room shack of her devoted parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Toomey.

Safe Deposit Boxes Stolen.
Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Two handbags held up the Colonel Hotel today and carried away all of the safe deposit boxes 50 boxes which contained guests' jewelry and cash, believed to run into the thousands of dollars.

Miss Dora Elliott Was Bidding Good-night to Trooper When Fatal Mishap Occurred, According to Story Told Coroner.

WERE DANCING
Couple Had Been Dancing With Friends Earlier in the Evening, But Had Returned Home.

Miss Dora A. Elliott, 25, daughter of Mrs. Harry Elliott of Main street, Highland, was killed shortly after 12 o'clock this morning with a bullet from a .25 calibre pistol, said to be owned by State Trooper James Mahoney, 32, of Monticello, who was with the young woman at the time in the living room of the Highland residence. The trooper was about to leave when the mishap occurred. Sergeant Lockhart of the State Troopers, who is stationed at Highland, to whom Mahoney reported the tragedy, said this morning after he had investigated the shooting that it was "purely accidental."

According to the story as told by Sergeant Lockhart this afternoon Trooper Mahoney was on vacation. He had been in the habit of visiting the young woman, who was a close friend, and last evening Mahoney and Miss Elliott and another couple went out for the evening.

Mahoney and the young woman returned to the Elliott home about midnight and were seated on the davenport in the living room. Mrs. Elliott had returned some time previous. Mahoney was about ready to leave and suddenly the pistol dropped from his vest pocket to the floor.

Miss Elliott was on the davenport with several pillows tucked behind her head. As the gun dropped to the floor she reached down and picked it up with her right hand, and held it about six inches away from her head.

Trooper Mahoney reached for the gun and as he grasped the young woman by the wrist the gun suddenly exploded and the bullet entered the young woman's head, about an inch above the right eye. She died instantly.

Sergeant Lockhart in reply to questions said that judging from the result of his investigation and of the story told him by Mahoney that the shooting was "purely accidental." Coroner Leaton DuBois of New Paltz, who had been called and made an investigation this morning, said it was "apparently accidental" but he would continue his investigation.

Miss Elliott was employed as secretary in the insurance office of Lent & Dean at Highland.

She was the daughter of the late Harry Elliott, a member of the Highland fire department, who was killed 17 months ago yesterday, while fighting a fire back of the Overbrook Press in Highland. Mr. Elliott touched a clothes line over which a live electric wire lay and was instantly electrocuted.

Trooper Mahoney is a member of the State Police, Troop C at Sidney. The coroner said Mahoney told him the gun fell out of his pocket and that the girl picked it up, "saying, 'What I can do with it.'"

Sheriff Abram Molynaux and District Attorney Cleon B. Murray when informed of the shooting made an investigation and reached the same conclusion as that reached by the coroner and Sergeant Lockhart: that the shooting was accidental.

Borgaro Out on Bail Fixed at $5,000; Held For Lake Katrine Fire

Joseph Borgaro of Nyack, who has been held in the Ulster county jail for several weeks awaiting action of the grand jury, on a charge of arson, was admitted to bail Thursday by County Judge Frederick C. Traver, who fixed the sum at $5,000 cash-bail.

Borgaro supplied the bail himself after a conference with his attorney.

He was charged with setting fire to a barn on premises owned by himself on the Neighborhood Road in the town of Ulster. Several cows perished in the fire.

At the time it was stated that Borgaro had secured a car in Nyack for demonstration purposes, stating that he desired to buy a car. He drove to Lake Katrine and during the night, according to a statement which was made to the authorities, he placed oil on the hay and touched a match. The fire spread so rapidly that he was burned himself and when he attempted to drive his car away it became stuck in the snow and before assistance was secured to get the car out it too was burned about the top and body. An aged man who was working the place assisted in getting the car out and told the officials that Borgaro had cautioned him not to mention the fact that he, Borgaro, had been at the farm.

State Trooper Kelly and Sheriff Molyneux were notified of the fire and investigated. As a result of their investigation they asked State Trooper to pick up Borgaro. The arrest was made near Nyack as Borgaro was returning home in the burned car.

He was brought back to Ulster county and a statement taken and an arson charge was lodged and he was remanded to jail to await action of the grand jury. The grand jury will meet next week.

Sabotage Accusations

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 28 (AP)—Renewed accusations of sabotage were made today as short-circuited lines of the strike-ridden El Paso Electric Company left five New Mexico communities without electrical power. M. C. Smith, company president, said four poles had been sawed down, grounding the lines. Although emergency crews manned the plant, the short circuit left Canutillo, Anthony, Las Cruces, Hot Springs and Hatch, all in New Mexico, without power. J. C. Gallagher, business agent of Local 535, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, declared the union had nothing to do with cutting down the poles.

GOOD GARDENING

18. Fence Rows.

Don't forget the fence rows in your garden. The so-called vine group of vegetables—including cucumbers, squashes and muskmelons—do well when trained to a wire fence or on wire netting so the vines can be carried up out of the way of other crops. All of this group require plenty of soil fertility; in addition to a shovelful of manure or its substitute in each hill a small quantity of commercial fertilizer may be worked into the soil after the vines begin to spread out. Beginners should try only squash and cucumber. The season for planting both runs from early March in the deep south to early June in the far north.

Tomorrow—Must Bed.

Algerians Dynamite Starlings
Algeria (AP)—Algeria, like America, has its startling problem and its method of ridding olive fields of the destructive birds is "direct action". An area of several acres which was a favorite roosting place, was dynamited recently and 31,000 starlings, weighing almost three tons, were killed.

Student Reds Jailed in Vilno
Vilno, Poland (AP)—Three Vilno University students, out of 11 tried for participating in a communistic plot, were sentenced to prison. The other eight were released. Discovery of the communist center here caused a sensation.

MONTGOMERY WARD

LET THE CLASSIFIEDS WORK FOR YOU!

Buying daughter a swell trousseau isn't such a compliment. It suggests that the groom won't be able to buy her any clothes for the next three years.

Stepping Stones.

Two steps backward, one ahead. Thus the path of life we tread: Two of loss, one of gain; One of joy, two of pain; Two steps upward, one step down. Life from cradle to a crown.

Little David listened with deep interest to the story of the prodigal son. At the end of it he burst into tears.

Mother—Why, what's the matter? Little David—I'm so sorry for the poor little calf. He didn't do nothing.

Slania. . . It is easy enough to make folks think you are a good egg until you are broke. . . Lady Barbara may be all right, but how would you like to have one shoving you when a mouse ran up her stocking? . . . No wonder a hen gets discouraged at times. She never can find things just where she laid them. . . Those who are frugal have an edge on wasters. . . Experience is a great teacher, but none ever had a more stupid bunch of pupils. . . There is almost always a tie between father and son—and son usually wears it.

Patchwork!

Life is a patchwork—here and there, scraps of pleasure and despair. Join together, bit or mias; And in time it comes to this: If your pattern really fits—If among the tiny bits Prominence the gay ones win. With the drab just filling in—There is something rather fine In the crazy old design.

And you are getting old when the life insurance agents quit rushing up and greeting you effusively.

Stranger—You say that tough looking man over there is the man who put this town on the map? Brushville Citizen—Yes, he just completed his sentence only a week ago.

Men fall into loafing because they can't stand the grind of a daily task. Yet what grind is more deadly and monotonous than to hang about eternally doing nothing?

First Father—Has your son's college education proved helpful since you took him into the firm? Second Father—Oh, yes, whenever we have a conference we let him mix the cocktails.

The man who is the life of the party at midnight is usually the pain in the neck at 9 o'clock the next morning.

Butcher—This pound of butter you sent me is three ounces short. Grocer—I mislaid the pound weight so I weighed it by the pound of chops you sent me yesterday.

Among the other things we heard against Texas is, that more than half the spinach that is raised in the United States grows down there.

A bachelor visitor in the office, in surprised tones, said he hasn't been proposed to yet and, looking into his face, we hold him we were not surprised, the girls aren't desperate yet.

Visitor (to bride)—Are you getting tired of studio life? Artist's Bride—Good gracious, no. It's most interesting. Jack paints and I cook. Then the game is to guess what the things are meant for.

If he is forty, and the girls of twenty say he isn't old, it means he is a bachelor and rich.

The Moss Feature Syndicate, 808 Summit avenue, Greensboro, North Carolina.

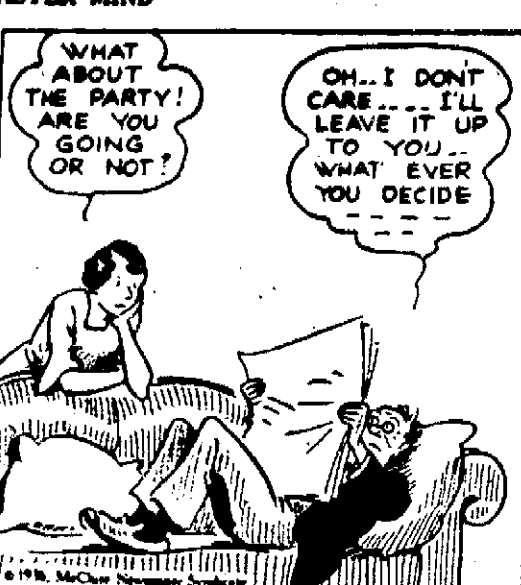

Has Quite A Family Mayfield, Ky. (AP)—J. H. Lamb of this county is the father of 13 children, 39 grandchildren and 23 great grandchildren.

Cry Of Alarm Spurs Congress To Reinforce West's Defense

The great "American defense triangle" guarding the Pacific will receive $8,518,000 in 1936 if the Senate approves a House proposal for the greatest strengthening of western fortifications attempted since the World War. A House committee, after a survey, declared "alarming" conditions made greater protection advisable.

Fiddlesticks

You're a funny talking man to be selling cigarettes. You talk like they are cure-alls.

I've known this for a long time . . . cigarettes cause no ills and cure no ailments.

You mean ALL cigarettes . . . Yes, at some time or other I have just about tried them all and what I say goes for all of them.

Seriously . . .

There is probably only one man on earth who would believe it if we told you that a cigarette would cure what ails you.

On the other hand . . .

There are millions of smokers who will testify, without publicity, as to the pleasure and enjoyment which they get from smoking a good cigarette.

HOLLYWOOD
SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Cinema stars who must give as much attention to their figures as their heads and faces are abandoning freak diets and substituting plain exercise.
Shapely Dolores Del Rio, who has a home gymnasium designed to her own strength and capabilities, and a swimming pool and tennis courts as well, praises exercise, but also cautions regularity of life.
"I mean regularity not only in sleeping, eating, exercise, relaxation or work—but even in thinking," she explains.
"A woman must not dissipate her strength, nervous system, or disposition on worry and temperamental outbursts. . . . Of course health is the first requisite for happiness and the basis of all beauty and charm. I do not believe in reducing diets, but I do believe in health diets."

Masculine Sports Taboo
Neither do I believe women should indulge in too strenuous exercise or in outdoor sports that are exclusively masculine. Calisthenics and graceful exercising should definitely have their place on the daily program, not only for figure control, but as a vital aid to good health," Alice Faye keeps the form her dancing roles reveal on the screen by "eating sensibly," taking long walks, practicing dance steps, playing tennis, and generally "keeping on the go." She thinks too much rest and relaxation are dangerous to a dancer, that muscles hardened by dancing are apt to become flabby and soft if neglected, with disastrous results to the figure. So she tries not to relax too much, and uses between-scenes intervals to tap-dance, or skip rope. As a preparation for a dancing scene, she likes to jump hedges.

Carole Lombard Likes Tennis
Carole Lombard, one of the best-dressed women of the screen, who has a figure to match, places her trust in tennis as a figure-preserver. "It's the best exercise I know," she says. "If I play twice a week, I find I don't have to diet or go to a masseuse to keep fit."
Exercise heads Fay Wray's health program, her favorites being tennis, ping-pong, swimming and riding. As for diet, she believes in moderation, eschewing overly starchy or richly spiced foods, and eating plain foods, fresh vegetables and fruits.
Ida Lupino "rows" with a physical instructor—in a gymnasium—for her daily exercise, and Gertrude Michael—before she had that auto accident—liked the stationary bicycle as a keep-fit aid. Jean Harlow has a "four-day diet," comprising nourishing but non-fattening foods, for occasional use as a figure helper, but it is not one to be used indiscriminately by others for whom it was not especially devised.

January, 1936, was the coldest January for Greensboro, N. C., since 1913, records show.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, Feb. 28.—DeWitt Jansen, who has been in charge of the farm of Mrs. Ina Davis for the last year, is moving to New Paltz, where he will superintend a large fruit farm.

Cornelius Hardenberg had the misfortune to lose a horse last week. Mr. and Mrs. George Weeks were guests on Sunday of the Mizes Riseley of Allaben.

The Ladies' Aid met at the M. E. parsonage on Wednesday afternoon. Plans were made for a roast pork supper with dressing and all "the fixin's", to be held in the Sunday School room on Wednesday evening, March 25. After the business meeting delicious refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed by all present.

Services at the Reformed Church on Sunday will be as follows: Sunday School at 9:30 a. m., under the leadership of L. D. Sahler. At 10:30 o'clock the Rev. Harold Hoffman of New Brunswick Seminary will bring the message of the morning.

The many friends of Miss Josephine Hasbrouck are pleased to hear she is improving and sits up in her room each day.

Mrs. William Weber was a guest on Monday of Mrs. DeForest Bishop. Thomas Donnelly, Sr., has received his official appointment as Stone Ridge R. F. D. carrier and expects to take the position permanently on or about March 15.

Church School at the M. E. Church on Sunday will convene at 9 a. m., with Oscar Wood in charge as superintendent. At 10 a. m. the pastor, the Rev. Roscoe Strivings, will bring a message to the Juniors which will be followed by a sermon on "The Moral Commands of God to Man."

Last Sunday the Rev. Mr. Strivings told of a letter received from a former Stone Ridge M. E. pastor, the Rev. Jay Holmes Smith, who is now a missionary in India, in which the Rev. Mr. Smith stressed the extreme need of more missionaries at once as around 65 millions of the "untouchables" of India are leaving the Hindu religion and now he is the time to try to win them before they accept of some other religion. A special collection was taken up to be sent to the Rev. Mr. Smith. Those who were not prepared to contribute to the fund last Sunday may do so on Sunday morning at 7 p. m., the Epworth League will meet in the Sunday School room.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wagar and son, Virgil, were guests over the week-end of Mrs. Wagar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Peck, of East Kingston.

Eldene Lounsbury is ill at her home with mumps.

The Rev. Roscoe Strivings attended a special congregational meeting held at Accord on Wednesday evening.

George Weeks, who is employed at the Napanoch Reformatory, is having a two-weeks' vacation.

At the official board meeting at the M. E. parsonage on Monday evening, the following trustees were elected: George Weeks for one year; Ross K. Osterhout for two years, and John Peck for three years.

For Women Only.
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 23 (AP).—Women news writers and wives of legislative correspondents have been invited by Mrs. Herbert H. Lehman to cruise to "No Man's Land" on the ship "Immediate Release" from pier "Executive Mansion" the night of March 12. The correspondents will hold their annual dinner the same night.

The total number of unemployed workers in January, 1936, was 9,715,000, according to the regular monthly estimate of the National Industrial Conference Board, made public today. This is an increase of 724,000, or 8 per cent, from the preceding month, and a decrease of 625,000, or 6 per cent below January, 1935.

The trouble with giving a fellow $200 a month after he is 60, is that then he is apt to be unable to have much fun spending the money. Why not retire 'em when they get to be 30?

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Feb. 28.—There was much community festivity Wednesday evening at Roy Van Demark's hall when Miss Idella Van Demark, Mrs. Melvin Barringer and Mrs. Lottie Campbell were given a group birthday celebration. The gathering was featured with music, singing and dancing. Refreshments in a bounteous and savory variety were served at midnight after which the merry making continued on into the " wee sma hours". It was the wish of all gathered that Miss Van Demark, Mrs. Barringer and Mrs. Campbell may see the ebb and flow of many happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Avery of Maple Dell Farm are enjoying a welcome respite from the dull daily cares of winter farm life, and braved the uncertain weather and road conditions by making a trip to their former home section in Allegany county.

Mrs. Martin J. Every has received word that her aged sister, Mrs. Affie Doughlass, is critically ill in Union Hill, N. J., where she is spending the winter. Mrs. Doughlass was formerly for many years an esteemed resident of Cedar street, Kingston. She is the widow of Martin Doughlass.

Mrs. Grace Winchell of Sunny Cliff Farm made a trip to Kingston Wednesday.

Jerry Van Kleeck, Jesse Shurter and others are engaged in harvesting ice from George Van Kleeck's quarry pond at Samsenville Heights. The mild weather is anything but favorable for ice gathering.

On Wednesday the Traver Hollow roads were ploughed out by the caterpillar town tractor through sections where the deep drifts had made detours through adjoining fields necessary.

There were 14 present at the Ladies' Aid quilting on Wednesday, held at the home of Mrs. Roy Van Demark. Nimble fingers flew and much headway was made working on the snowball quilt which the ladies have been piecing. Mrs. Van Demark proved as ever the charming hostess and all enjoyed the serving of her bounteous dinner. Mrs. Ernest Eckert was cordially welcomed, this being her first attendance of the winter. Those present for the day included the following: Mrs. Van Demark, Mrs. Loren Bell, Mrs. Idella North, Miss Idella Van Demark, Mrs. George Terwilliger, Mrs.

Richter, Mrs. Herbert Hyde and son, Warren, Mrs. Claude Bell, Mrs. Alfred Bell, Mrs. James Burgher, Mrs. John Brethaupt, Mrs. Van Wageningen.

Harry Jordan of Roxbury was a caller at West Shokan heights on Wednesday evening.

Continuance of the welcomed mild weather is lowering the snow blanket daily with the result that getting about in the snow when necessary is much more easily accomplished. On Tuesday evening Donald Bishop, Elwyn Davis and daughters, Mariam and Cornelia, were entertained at a beefsteak supper served at the home of R. B. Longyear at Phenicia.

Lawrence Kelder of East Orange, N. J. was a visitor at West Shokan heights recently. He is nursing a broken arm which was sustained by an unfortunate fall on the ice.

Birds and wild animals who have had a hard fight for life must welcome the warmer weather and melting of the deep snow.

Catherine Roe of West Shokan heights is not enjoying life again, after having measles.

Supervisor Lemuel E. DuBois of Ashokan was a business caller in the Samsenville sector on Wednesday.

Teamster Julian Eckert is employed at Traver Hollow starting out logs for Charles Duluff.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Crawford and daughter, Margaret, were Kingston visitors on Tuesday evening.

PREVIEWED—

Today

Broadway: "Claw and Fang." Frank Buck, who goes into the wild places of the earth and photographs the dangers therein, offers another man versus beast exploration party which is all recorded for the camera, canned into film, and then brought back to civilization for the express purpose of giving its audiences thrills and the mystery of jungle life. And it attains that end in a big way. Those who enjoyed the other Frank Buck picture journeys will find this one equally effective. There is so much new material in this talkie that it is something to see in order to fully appreciate. Added features on the program include a Mickey Mouse cartoon, the March of Time and the Voice of Experience.

Kingston: "The Calling of Dan Matthews" and "Two in The Dark." Harold Bell Wright's rigorous novel of a man who went through almost every difficulty a human can experience in order to win his cause is brought to the Kingston screen as one of the double features on the Thursday and Friday program. Richard Arlen will be seen in the starring role. "Two in The Dark" is one of the best of the current "quickie" dramas as it tells about Walter Abel, an amnesia victim, who finds himself tangled up in a murder without even knowing who he is or what he is doing. It creates lively and entertaining drama and is well worth enjoying. Margaret Grahame is also in the cast as the actress who helps solve his dilemma.

Orpheum: "Welcome Home" and "Ridin' Wild." A study in gentle grafting is brought out for its entertainment value in the main feature at the Orpheum, the tale of a sentimental grafter who comes back to his home town and who saves the townsfolk from buying the pretty girl edged securities of his not so sentimental partners. There are moments of real humor in this one and James Dunn and Arline Judge make a fair romantic team. "Ridin' Wild" is the other attraction with Tim McCoy acting courageous all over the place.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "Professional Soldier." One of the nation's top fight character actors joins forces with one of Hollywood's finest juvenile players in this Graustarkian tale of revolution in a mythical kingdom. It tells of a tough professional soldier who deals in war and revolution as a livelihood. He kidnaps the youthful king as part of his job and finds the young royalist a regular fellow. There is also a burst or two of romance and some swell dialogue penned into the script by Gene Fowler. Victor McLaglen and Freddie Bartholomew prove an enjoyable starring team and Gloria Stuart, Constance Collier, Michael Whalen and C. Henry Gordon are all effective in lesser roles. The story was written by Damon Runyan and the direction was under the guidance of Tay Garnett.

Kingston: "Next Time We Love." Margaret Sullivan turns to modernism in her latest starring effort and discloses the beauty and misfortune of wedded bliss in this picture that was based on Ursula Parrott's novel of the same name. The picture proves all over again the ability of the talented Miss Sullivan and she is well aided by James Stewart and Ray Milland. The story is rather ordinary but the work of the cast, the direction and the careful production all tend to make the production an enjoyable bit of entertainment.
Orpheum: Same.

A report by the Farm Credit Administration shows that the agricultural cooperative marketing movement made substantial progress in 1935—as it has in almost every year since its inception. Almost 8,000 associations engaged in marketing farm commodities during the year. They had a total membership of 2,496,000 farmers, and did a total volume of business of $1,343,000,000—a gain of 14.2 per cent over 1934.

Borah Ohio Primary Declaration Seeks to Force Rivals Into Race

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington (P)—Senator Borah, out to "liberalize" the Republican party, is seeking a great showdown in Ohio, "mother" of seven Presidents—and all of them Republicans. To belabor the ancient political implements of uninstructed delegations and "favorite son" candidates, he is using as a club a primary election law of that state.

Here is how the statute of pivotal Ohio—where, politically, east meets west—serves his purpose:

Under its terms, states pledged to a presidential candidate may be entered on the ballot of the May 12 primary only if the candidate himself has filed, by March 12, formal permission for such a step.

Opponent On The Spot

Borah has announced he will file. Thus he may place adversaries in the possibly uncomfortable position of having to make their candidacies public early in the game.

This situation confronts them: If they mean to go all the way against Borah in Ohio they must make it known long before primaries will be held in other states—before they can know which way the wind blows elsewhere.

Thus, any plan in Ohio to send to the Cleveland convention a "favorite son" or an uninstructed delegation might easily run against the practical obstacle of Borah on the one side and additional avowed candidates on the other. These latter might be forced formally to enter the lists in Ohio as insurance against a possible victory by default for Borah.

Wide Open Vote

This would mean throwing the primary wide open to a vote on all comers by the rank and file—exactly what Borah wants, perhaps more than the nomination itself. In this connection, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, mentioned as a Republican presidential possibility, has declined to file.

The uninstructed delegation, has been used often as a means of holding a state delegation in control until its strength could be turned to the candidate favored by the state leaders.

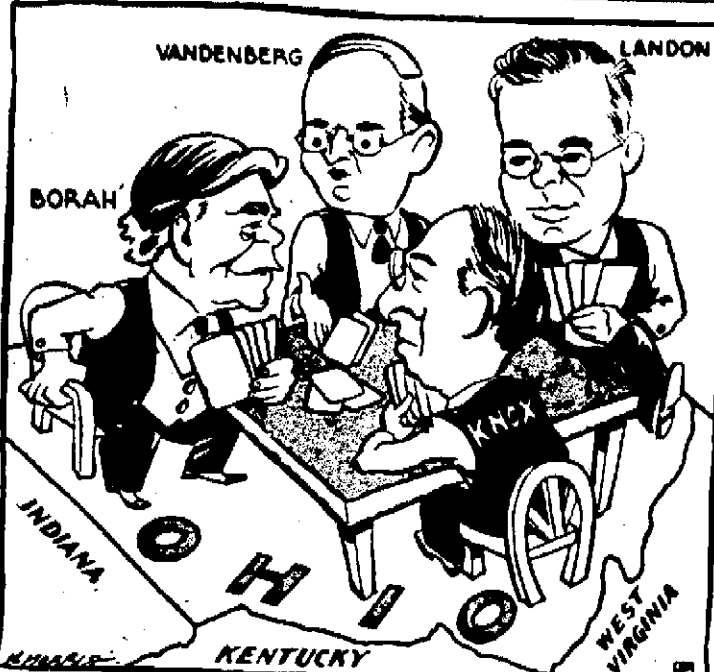

Meanwhile, although political observers are keeping one eye on Ohio, they are not overlooking other states where important primaries are in the offing. Sixteen will be held between March 10 and June 2. For example, both Borah and Col. Frank Knox are formally entered in Illinois, one of the top-ranking states in terms of electoral vote. Governor Alfred Landon, of Kansas, another presidential possibility, has not filed.

In states which do not have presidential primaries, delegates to the national convention in June which are pledged to particular candidates or are unpledged, are chosen at state party conventions.

The Huey P. Long memorial bridge, which spans the Mississippi at New Orleans, was dedicated two months after the Senator's death.

Kansas records reveal the first baseball charter in the state was filed from Leavenworth in January, 1867.

It took a blizzard to convince many persons that an enjoyable evening can be spent occasionally at home.—Indianapolis Star.

Seeking to compel other Republicans who are considered presidential possibilities "to show their hand," Senator William E. Borah has announced his entry into the Ohio primaries on May 12. Senator Vandenberg has said he would not file.

Cool Weather Halts Thaw, Lessens Local Fear of High Water

Slightly cooler weather Thursday night halted the spring thaw which has been in progress for several days and tightened up the ice in this locality. Floods which have been threatening in various parts of the country have not yet made their appearance in this locality and streams have not risen to alarming proportion.

The mountain streams have not risen despite the continued thaw and the Hudson river, which has been ice locked for weeks, has not begun to come up very fast. In the upper Hudson it was reported the ice was holding firm and water was beginning to flow over the ice but at the Troy Federal locks it was reported no prospect yet of a flood.

The federal coast guard was requested to send an ice breaker up the Hudson to open the channel and prevent ice jams and flood conditions should the warm weather continue. Thursday the coast guard promised to send an ice breaker up the river immediately as far as Troy. One of the vessels is now working its way up the river today making as rapid progress as the heavy ice will permit.

Twice during the present severe winter the Commanche, one of the newest ice breakers, tried to keep a path open for boats but failed. Yesterday the Protector, the tug which aids deep water craft coming to the Port of Albany was sunk by the ice at Albany forcing a hole in the hull.

At Gilboa Thursday it was reported the ice was breaking up in that reservoir. The Ashokan holds firm and will hold probably for some time. The upper Esopus has come up some during the last few days due to the warm weather, but has not reached flood stage. Some fear is felt in the upper Esopus should there be a heavy rain and warm weather, since there is heavy ice in the stream which might go out in form of jams.

Bundle of Twigs Serves as Calendar for Indians

A quaint system of calendar-making, similar to that employed by the Bible patriarchs, is practiced by the Sarcee Indians of the Indian reserve outside Calgary, Alberta. It is the medicine man's responsibility, notes a writer in Tit-Bits Magazine, to transfer each morning a twig from a bundle representing the unused part of the month to another bundle that represents the used part. Altogether, he has five bundles, each containing thirty twigs. The third bundle, signifying June in summer and December in winter, is always kept in two equal parts. The divisions denote mid-summer's day in one instance and mid-winter's day in the other. In winter the twigs are kept with their points downwards; in summer the position is reversed. Having only five bundles to tally off six months each half-year, the medicine man always uses the fifth bundle twice. The picturesque names and emblems by which the Indians recognize the months run as follows:

April, Frog Moon; Bull Frog's Croak; May, Sprouting of Green Leaves and Grass; June, Egg (Duck's) Moon; July, Moulting (Duck's) Moon; August, Flying (Duck's) Moon; September, Running of the Deer; October, Fall of Leaves Moon; November, Mist Moon; December, Clear, Frosty Moon; January, Great Moon; February, Eagle Moon, eagles soar; March, Goose Moon, geese come.

Early Post Riders

On August 30, 1776, hardly more than a month after the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, the Continental congress passed a resolution providing (in part) that "the communication of intelligence with frequency and despatch, from one part to another of this extensive continent is essentially requisite to its safety; that, therefore, there shall be employed on the several post roads a rider for every 25 or 30 miles, whose business it shall be to proceed immediately through his stage three times each week, setting out immediately on receipt of the mail, and travelling with the same, by night and by day, without stopping, until he shall have delivered it to the next rider."

Ancient News Service

On November 6, 1834, the United States Gazette, of Philadelphia, reported election returns from New York morning papers of the same day—"the most extraordinary despatch ever forwarded in this or any other country, for so great a distance, save by telegraphic signals." The papers were carried to Ambler, N. J., by steamboat in two hours and twenty-five minutes. From there, the Gazette explained, a locomotive of the partially completed Camden and Amboy railway proceeded to the present terminus of the road, 24 miles, in 2 hours and 15 minutes, and with a horse and sulky the remaining five miles were performed in 25 minutes—total running time, five hours and five minutes.

The Statue of Liberty

The head of the Statue of Liberty was completed in time for exhibition at the Paris exposition in 1878, the former having been sent to Philadelphia for showing at the Centennial exposition in 1876. Thence it was transferred to Madison Square Garden, New York city, where it remained until 1904, three years after the frame-work and base had been put into place. It rises 305 feet from foundation of pedestal to top of torch. The length of a hand is 16 feet 3 inches. The index finger is 8 feet long. The thickness of the head from ear to ear is 10 feet. The nose is 4 feet 6 inches long. The mouth is 3 feet across.

HEADLINER!!! ANY WAY YOU LOOK AT IT!

IT COSTS LESS NOW TO BUY "ON TIME"

EXTRA special news it was—when Buick wrapped up 3500 pounds of live-wire power-thrill in sixteen feet of eye-stopping smartness—and named it the Special.

Extra special news it was—when buyers put foot to treadle on the open road, and found the Buick Special nimble, eager, steady, smooth—as no car ever was before at $765* list price at the factory.

Extra special news you'll find it, when you pile up the miles, roll the weeks into months, and see how meager are its demands for gas and oil—how stubbornly it resists the siren call of the repair shop.

It's newsworthy for style, for power, for comfort, for safety. It's a headliner for thrill, for prolonged resistance to wear, tear and abuse. It will write family history in the new sort of satisfaction it gives you and yours.

But highlight of the news is that you can buy the Buick Special for a mere two or three dollars a week more than the lowest-priced cars. The new GMAC 6% Time Payment Plan brings down the cost of buying "on time," makes payments easy, removes the last cause for waiting to "step-up" to a Buick.

We'd like to show you the phenomenal Special, let you drive it, figure out the arithmetic on it. It's worth your while just to find out how little it costs to get a car that's big in more ways than its inches! When may we see you?

SPRUCE UP WITH SLIP COVERS

NEW SPRING FABRICS TRANSFORM A ROOM

Ever since the Hammonds were over the other evening, the living room has looked wretchedly shabby. Frances, who had been the one to burn the spot on the davenport, tried to bury a bone—neither of these things looked ugly until Frances caught that "What a baby little room!" expression in Mrs. Hammond's critical eyes.

Now Frances is going full speed ahead on the remedy, new slip covers—since the budget won't stretch to new furniture just now. A slip cover for an arm chair in a gray, red, and citron yellow hints on a cream ground. And a slip cover for the davenport in ray chintz, with red cord whipped along the seams, as shown in proper sketch. Maybe that won't marten up the room, with its cream walls, red and gray rug, and lovely curtains that match the chintz of the armchair!

Frances can't imagine why she hadn't made some bright slip covers before. She's found out how simple it is to pin the material along the lines of the old upholstery, cut it out like cutting crust to fit a pie, and basting along the pinned lines. Fit once with the cover wrong side out, machine-stitch the seams and the deed is done.

The davenport cover slips on snugly, with snapped plackets at the back. It was made the professional way, with a fold of material in the back seam to prevent tearing, and other clever touches.

No more patronizing looks from Mrs. Hammond! Frances is mighty glad she learned how to make slip covers the right way.

It's all in our 40-page Home Institute booklet, MAKING SLIP COVERS SUCCESSFULLY. All about materials, trimmings, seams, plackets, and covers for different types of chairs. Step by step directions illustrated by diagrams. From buying the goods to snapping on the finished cover. Also a chapter on making an upholstered chair cover. Saves you time, material, and disappointment.

All Years Leap In Old Provence

Avignon, France (AP)—By an ancient custom still fully observed, every year is leap year for Provencal girls.

On the principle that the way to a man's heart lies through his stomach, the maiden takes a cake called "fourcasse." This she places with a jug of wine outside her home, some old houses having niches in the wall for the purpose.

The favored swain cuts the cake and drinks the wine, leaving in its place a silver scarf. The girl wears this to church the following Sunday, and a few weeks later the wedding bells ring out.

Should she change her mind, she fills the youth by offering him a handful of oats.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Lots' spring frocks use 'wash-easy' fabrics. Diana Martin

Fabrics that launder easily and retain a crisp freshness after numerous washings are naturally expected to attract the greatest interest, particularly among mothers who must keep youngsters spry and span.

The new styles, however, will delight little daughter too, with their novel styling and bright, colored braid trimmings, which are much used for contrast on white or colored fabrics. Soutache and ric-rac braids are favored for the purpose, often trimming the white collar and cuffs or co-operating with matching buttons for front embellishment.

The youthful miss sketched above at left wears an all-white frock of crisp Pique. This semi-tailored, double-breasted style has cap sleeves and navy blue ric-rac braid trims the bodice. The buttons are also of navy-blue to match the smart trimming.

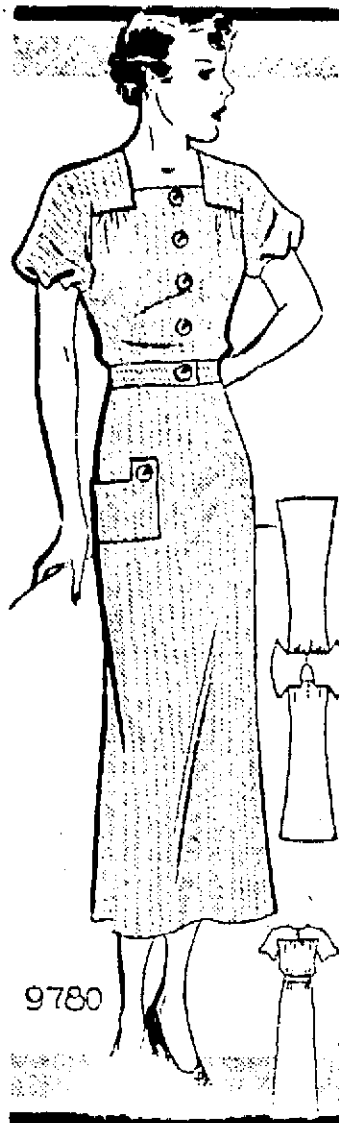

Cotton shantung in skipper blue makes the cute frock pictured at right. It has pleats down the back and a white collar with red for trimming contrast. Red soutache also trims the front down to the hem.

Among the favored colors in wash frocks for children, white, navy, maize, marine blue, bitterroot, Mexican turquoise and peasant red appear most often in the showings.

PREVENT DANGERS OF CONSTIPATION*

"Bulk" in ALL-BRAN Is Gentle in Action

Common constipation is largely due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. You fail to get your internal exercise. Millions of people have found that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies soft "bulk" with satisfactory results.

Tests in nutrition laboratories demonstrate that the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN can be used with the utmost confidence. Naturally, those few individuals with diseased or highly sensitive intestines should not take "bulk" in any form—either in leafy vegetables or in bran.

Unlike cathartics, ALL-BRAN is natural in its action—nor does this food lose its effectiveness with continued use. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and cleanses the intestines, promoting normal and healthful elimination.

Two tablespoonfuls of this delicious cereal, served with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Enjoy it also in cooked dishes.

Help your family keep well. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACGER

New York, Feb. 28 (AP)—Outstanding strength was displayed by scattered issues in today's stock market, while profit-taking held other sections of the list within narrow limits.

Trading turned quiet after a fast opening. Buying stimulation seemed to be lacking in most categories. At the approach of the fourth hour Allied Chemical was up more than a point, Electric Power & Light and American Telephone.

Shares up fractions to a point or more included St. Joseph Lead, Anaconda, Good, Co., Schenley, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Seaboard Oil, Westinghouse, Douglas Aircraft, Chrysler and Pennsylvania. Sun Shipbuilding and Iron Co. rose 1/4. General Motors, a price lower. Bonds were fairly firm, but quiet. Grain and cotton were moderately mixed. Leading foreign exchanges were little better than even.

Alliance is Craved.
Chicago, Feb. 28 (AP)—Das D. C. G. president of the Farmers Independence Council of America, urged an alliance of the farmer and industrial capital today to force labor and railroad wage down. He spoke before the operations club. The farmer, on the basis of credit, should work to attain his independence of capital, to establish his independence of organized labor, with the farmer and the consumer's ability to buy," he said.

PICKS UP FASHION TIPS ON WAR FRONT

Expert Falls for Ethiopian Skirts and Headdress.

Asmara, Eritrea—Spring fashions will show a definite Ethiopian trend as a direct result of the Italian campaign, predicts Mme. Edna de Bonneville, famous French woman war correspondent and author on Parisian styles.

Mme. de Bonneville, who has camped at Italian outposts and trekked through hundreds of miles of Danakil desert land, declared that the showings of the Haute Couture in Paris next season are certain to reveal balloon sleeves and long pleated skirts that cover the ankles in imitation of the dresses worn by the ebony barefoot women of Ethiopia.

Even hair-dressing, she added, probably will be influenced by the Ethiopian style of coiffure.

Colla Skirts Beautiful.
"I have never seen anything so beautiful as the skirts worn by the upper classes of Ethiopian women," she told the United Press. "They remind me of ancient Byzantine gowns, rich with hand embroidery and bright with many colors. The average skirt is made from cloth that measures at least five meters long. It is pleated together so that it is close fitting around the waist while at the bottom it flares out and swirls with every step.

The embroidery, which is of delicate handwork, is often a mosaic of all the colors of the rainbow. The favorite hues, however, are green and violet against a background of white.

"Ethiopian sleeves are another attractive feature which the Italian world is giving to the fashion world of Europe and America," she continued. "They are almost like the leg-motifs of grandmother's day, only they are more balloon shaped—as though they had been blown up by a bicycle pump. They just look that way as a result of fine pleating.

Umbrellas Not Folding.
"I could care for hours about the cute little umbrellas these women carry. They are made out of wicker and look for all the world like straw mushrooms. They are so small that they can be carried without any bother, even though they don't fold up."

Asked if she thought there was a possibility of Ethiopian hair-dressing setting a vogue, she replied:

"I feel certain that it will be taken up because it is so practical and cool. The hair is combed severely back from the forehead, almost like a boyish bob, but on each side it rolls down and outward in natural puffs. And almost any sort of hat can be worn with the hair fixed this way.

"Many Ethiopian women use mutton fat to keep their hair in place, but I don't think this greasy idea will ever be taken up by western women," she concluded.

Underwear on Statue

Reveals It as a Fraud

London.—One of the best-known exhibits in the British museum, the Cerveteri Sarcophagus, is to be removed from its position in the Greek and Roman section to the basement. Trustees of the museum declare it is a forgery.

The museum bought the sarcophagus in 1873 as part of a lot of 1,000 objects from a Roman dealer. It has come to light that instead of being a genuine 600 B. C. Etruscan statue, it was made in the Nineteenth century by Enrico Pennelli, a sculptor.

E. J. Forsdyke, keeper of the department of Greek and Roman antiquities at the museum, had suspected that the figure of the woman reclining on the top of the sarcophagus was a fake.

"Etruscan women in 600 B. C.," he declares, "may have had strange fashions, but they never wore drawers."

Tiniest Star Yet Known

to Science Is Discovered

Mill. Wilson, Calif.—Discovery of the smallest star yet known, only 4,000 miles in diameter, was reported recently. Surprised astronomers found it weighs 620 tons a cubic inch, has a gravity pull 8,400,000 times stronger than the earth's, and is enveloped in an atmosphere only 12 feet thick.

Dr. G. P. Kuiper, who sighted the faint white speck in the outer sky, said it was a rare "white dwarf" star. Out of the millions of visible stars, only four or five white dwarfs have been seen with the Carnegie observatory's 100-inch telescope here.

Balding only about one-third as big as the astronomically tiny earth, the sky baby's size is emphasized by comparison with its 1,000-mile diameter with the sun, 883,000 miles, and the largest known star, Antares, 600,000,000 miles.

Duce Woes Hitler As Off-

set To Paris Pact

By ANDRUE BERDING

Rome (AP)—Mussolini is wooing Hitler, hoping for a return of the once intimate Italo-German relations to offset the Franco-British tie-up. Diplomats of many countries admit they are watching the development because of its possibly far-reaching results.

Thus far Germany "hasn't having any," preferring to remain neutral and keep on good terms with England.

Duce's Agents in Reich
Mussolini recently sent Consul Scarpa to Germany to keep in touch with Hitler and his lieutenants. He has no official standing, but is remaining in Germany indefinitely.

Il Duce likewise sent Renato Ricci, undersecretary of education in charge of the Fascist youth movement, to Germany to make a tour of Germany's youth training centers.

An Italian close to the government said that Italian newspapers have received instructions to handle the German situation with kid gloves. They were told to play up the third anniversary of Hitler's regime in a sympathetic light. They were also ordered to eliminate dispatches from other capitals criticizing Germany.

German Outlines Situation
A high German official outlined the Italo-German position of the moment thus:

"At the beginning of the war German feeling was distinctly anti-Italian. Now this feeling is much changed.

"Germany is neutral. She has no intention of getting into the camp of the sanctionists. She wants Italy to continue strong and be an influence in Europe.

"Trade between the two countries has increased somewhat since sanctions went into effect, but not much. It was augmented for some products and decreased for others.

"There is no reason why they could not reach an agreement on an independent Austria and would make an agreement on this point, if Italy would agree to let the Austrians choose their own government.

"Even if the national-socialists should gain control in Austria and ask for union with Germany, Hitler would not accept at this time because it would cause trouble."

Locarno Infringement Seen
Another German official said his country and Italy felt the same way with regard to the Franco-British military talks, believing they infringed on the Locarno pact.

"Germany was assured by England and France that their military conversations referred to the Mediterranean and not the Rhine," he said, "but she does not altogether believe these assurances.

"She thinks that the contacts of the general staffs of the two countries are very dangerous. However, Germany has not had any conversations with Italy on this subject."

Game of Alliances Engages European Nations

This map illustrates how the French system of obtaining security by treaty has been extended across Europe and out into western Asia. Starting with Belgium and Poland, it has taken in the Little Entente (B), the Balkan Entente (C), the new Mid-East Entente (D) and now seeks to include the Baltic States (E). The Soviet Union is the latest addition to France's list of direct alliances. Paris says there is room for Italy and Bulgaria and hopes Austria and Hungary will join Danubian neighbors in another overlapping agreement.

A German who was recently received by Mussolini said Il Duce emphatically told him:

"Go back to your country and say that Germany must be with us. Otherwise the other nations will crush her."

France Extends Security

Chain To Mid-East

By ROBERT B. PARKER

Paris (AP)—Cabinet members and cabinet go to Europe's feverish search for a war-proof treaty goes on forever.

Nearly half a hundred anti-war pacts have been signed and sealed by Europe's chancelleries and still the negotiations continue.

Yet the rising crescendo of marching feet still threatens to end the statesmen's conferences.

France in Leading Role
Largest projects on the long schedule of war-proof treaties is a five-power pact to defend Austria's independence, a mutual assistance agreement between Russia and Poland, and a plan to put "teeth" to the league of Nations covenant.

In most of the treaty negotiations since Versailles, France has played the biggest part. Beginning with her alliance with Belgium short after the World War and ending with her new pact with Soviet Russia, Paris has attempted to build wall of sacred paper around Germany for her own security.

An unbroken chain from the English Channel to Asia has been forged by France, either directly through treaties with other nations or by her allies' treaties with other friendly powers.

England Avoids Signing
Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Russia, Poland, Greece, Turkey, Iran and Afghanistan are linked to France, either directly or through a common ally. Great Britain has promised her friendship to France although she has signed no treaty. France hopes Italy will return to her camp when the war with Ethiopia is over.

Austria will be indirectly but strongly linked to France, diplomats have, if Vienna agrees on the proposed five-power Danubian pact with the tri-color's military allies, the Little Entente. So will Hungary, it is said.

Iraq is believed to be ready to join Turkey, Iran and Afghanistan in a Mid-East Entente, and the fact that Iraq and Arabia a few days ago agreed a mutual assistance pact encourages that belief.

Strenuous efforts are being made to steer Bulgaria into the Balkan entente.

Peace Chained To Pacts
Yet with such an impressive chain extending from continent to continent, France has given no intention of relaxing her efforts to forge additional links.

She wants to get the Baltic states, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, firmly lined up with Moscow and to break Germany's new-found hold on Poland.

"If even part of our chain holds together," said one French diplomat, "we'll have peace in Europe for 50 years. But we have few illusions. We'll keep right on arming ourselves."

Kingston 4th, Visitations 1st, Opponents Here Next Wednesday

The Kingston City Service team, which is idle in the American Basketball League until next Wednesday when it plays the Brooklyn Visitations in a tie with the Passaic Reds for fourth place in the league standing. Each club has won six and lost eight in the second half.

Kingston despite its position, hopes to play the same type of ball that won for it over the Jersey Reds this week when they were showing the way, to trip the Visitations who are now on top with nine victories and five defeats. The Jersey Reds are second in the league standing, recently released by President John J. O'Brien.

Other statistics released by O'Brien show Kingston has scored 315 points in league competition and that 351 points have been rolled up by opponents on the Gasoliers. The Jersey Reds top the list of clubs with the best offensive record. Next come the Visitations.

Carlie Husta, who has been among the 10 leading scorers all season, is fourth on the official list. The captain of the Kingston club has 107 points to his credit. Preceding him are McDermott, Berenson, and Rabinowitz in the order named.

After next Wednesday's tilt with the Visitations, Kingston has two more games, one with Passaic and the other with the Philadelphia Hebrews. At the conclusion of the American season, the Gasoliers will play an exhibition with the world famous colored Renaissance, the showy teamers who packed the Auditorium twice last year.

Official league records are as follows:

LOST TO KINGSTON AGAIN.

HANK KURTYKA.

"I have a steady job now Pop, so I'm quitting the team to go to Passaic." This is what Hank Kurtyka told Manager Frank Morgenweck Thursday afternoon, when he visited him at his apartment on Green street.

"Trying to fool me again, eh?" said Pop to the "Dizzy Dean" of his City Service basketball club who is accustomed to having Kurt tell him he has a new job now and then, or that he's going to get married or go to a funeral, etc.

"I'm not fooling this time, Pop. I really have a job and must take it right away," said Hank as he assumed a position like that of a little boy ready to cross his heart.

"If that's the case, we won't stand in the way," answered Morgie. "The season is almost over and a job is a job."

So the old ball hawk is lost to Kingston for the second time this season. Early in the first half of the American League, Kurtyka faded from the City Service lineup because he had signed to play with Buffalo, before getting his signature on the dotted line for Morgenweck.

The management of the Bisons put an injunction on him and threatened suit for $10,000. A week or so ago Morgenweck patched up the legal difficulties, getting Kurtyka released for a price.

He played in several games as a substitute and was to have continued with Kingston for their next three league contests. Then came the job, and the Hawk changed his plans.

If Kingston has a team next year, and indications are that it will, Kurtyka probably will be with the club—if he doesn't change his plans.

Poughkeepsie Meets Kingston High at Auditorium Tonight

There is a great deal of interest in the basketball game to be staged at the Municipal Auditorium tonight, when Kingston High School, champion of the DCSO League and undefeated in league games this year, goes against Poughkeepsie High School.

Until it made the mistake of traveling to Port Jervis February 15, and getting trimmed by the Port Jervis High School team, 25 to 22, Poughkeepsie had a record of 31 consecutive games won, running back to the start of the 1934 season.

Among Poughkeepsie's victims earlier in this season, in a non-DCSO game, were the present DCSO champions, who were defeated in a game in which they were minus their high scoring forward, Charlie Beck.

Kingston claims that with Charlie in the lineup things would have been different.

The game tonight will show, probably what it is all about and just who is who in this part of the Hudson Valley.

Rosendale Overcomes Morans, A. A.'s Win From Spencers, 11-10

In the weekly basketball games at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday night Rosendale had an easy time in defeating the Moran Business School girls 28 to 4, but the game between the Kingston A. A. girls and the team from Spencers was a different story, the former finally managing to pull out a 11 to 10 victory.

The A. A. Girls took the first half of their game 5 to 4, but when the final whistle blew the score was tied at 9 all. Two overtime periods were played, without further scoring, but in a third H. Terwilliger scored one point on a foul, for Spencers, only to have R. DeWitt come through with a field, giving the game to the A. A. girls by a one point margin.

The Rosendale girls held the Morans 12 to 4 at half time, and then added 16 more points in the second half at the same time keeping their opponents from scoring. Morans four points were scored by Miss Terwilliger and R. Kelder led the Rosendale girls with eight points each.

OVER THE JUMPS—FIRST TEST

It wasn't sheer surmounting that sent Catcher Luke Sewell of the Chicago White Sox soaring over the bar held by Manager Jimmy Dykes as spring training started at Pasadena, Calif. 1940 Olympic Games May Be Held in Japan

By LATHROP MACK Associated Press staff writer.
New York, Feb. 26 (AP)—The question of where to hold the 1940 Olympic games is a simple one to Count Henri Baillet-Latour of Belgium, president of the International Olympic Committee.

"It is politically necessary to go once to the far east," he said today as he carried here enroute for Tokyo to appraise Japan's plans for seeing the 1940 games and to inspect the facilities for holding them.

The recent assassinations and revolt in Tokyo and the antipathy of some European countries toward sending their athletes so far from home disturb Count LaTour not at all, he said.

"The Olympics are an international flag. They never have been held in the Orient. The Japanese are the first ever received from that area. European countries which do not wish to compete in Japan do not have to attend. But it is up to the nations themselves. I am absolutely sure."

The Count declined to comment on the military uprising in Japan. He announced he would sail from San Francisco, March 5, as he had planned. He must report to his committee in Paris next summer from comment on the so far informal suggestion that New York might hold the games in connection with the World's Fair planned here in 1939.

His chief worry was about Tokyo weather. "I haven't been in Japan since 1911," he said. "I hear it is very hot there in September. The Olympics should have two months of not-too-hot weather. Then there is the question of Japan's vacation time and the duration of its school year. But no doubt the Japanese would close their schools at any time convenient to the Olympic Committee."

"The Japanese are so keen," he said. Count LaTour said there was "nothing to complain about" in the conduct of the recent winter games in Germany.

There was not the slightest political allusion," he said. "Every thing was marvelous."

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

(By The Associated Press)

Pensacola, Fla.—The Giants are beginning to hope Bill Terry never decides to take to umpiring instead of managing a ball club. Bill has served as umpire in practice games here and he steadfastly refuses to call a fourth ball. The players have to hit or go out.

Clearwater, Fla.—The opening of the Dodgers' training camp today finds a large squad already on hand. Among those who arrived early were Lonnie Frey, Danny Taylor, George Earnshaw, Tom Baker, Fred Frankhouse, Walter Millies and Babe Phelps.

Bradenton, Fla.—Johnny Mize, Cardinal rookie, has had plenty of work in a few days in training camp. Manager Frankie Frisch has had the former Rochester star taking a turn in the outfield as well as subbing for Jim Collins at first base.

Avalon, Cal.—Augie Galan of the Cubs is not enthusiastic over the proposal to shift him from left to center field but says, "I will do my best wherever Charley Grimm places me."

San Juan, P. R.—The Cincinnati Reds begin the last stage of their training today after traveling to Ponce to trim a local team 8-2 yesterday. After games here tomorrow and Sunday the first squad will leave for Miami by air Monday.

Lakeland, Fla.—Manager Mickey Cochran indicated he may change his batting style this season to take advantage of the new Detroit grandstand in right field. Mickey hit 23 homers with the Athletics one year, by shooting at a short wall but lately has been trying to place his hits.

Orlando, Fla.—As a variation to calisthenics and weight reducing exercises, Bucky Harris has begun to give the Senators some batting drill without very good results. The sandlot flingers, Joe Sullivan and Fitch Mathias, managed to bamboozle the hitters.

New Orleans—Steve O'Neill of the Indians says he is pleased with the condition of his men after less than a week in camp.

Pasadena, Cal.—Mike Kreevich who had a trial with the Cubs, appears certain to stay with the Chicago White Sox. He was obtained from Kansas City as an outfielder but can play third and probably will be kept as a sub for Manager Jimmie Dykes.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—President Bob Quinn of the Boston Bees prefers to hire ball players for less than he could "buy a minor league club," but is confident Wally Berger, who brought on the talk, will sign shortly.

"He has asked for such a raise that people wouldn't believe it if I announced his figure," said Quinn today.

"Little" Is Beverage of Some Distill Countries

"Little" is to "Chill," Paraguayans call it. Paraguayans what they do to European countries, being drunk even more than coffee. The tree of bush grows exclusively in the temperate region, from 1,500 to 3,000 feet above sea level. It is from 12 to 20 feet in height and belongs to the hol family, but is without spines leaves. In the state of Parana alone, it covers an area of about 140,000 square kilometers.

The leaves are prepared in two distinct ways, according to a writer in the Indianapolis News: (1) Ground into powder to be used in the curi (or curry) and the decoction, made with boiling water, is sucked up through a perforated tube; (2) prepared as a sort of tea in dunks, with some fine stalks, and taken in cups. The infusion is of a green color. When brewed in a pot, a Brazilian custom is to put a piece of glowing charcoal in it, which turns it to a dark, brownish green, and makes it stronger. It improves also by boiling. Unlike tea, two brewings may be made of the same stronger than the first. It is said to have no aftertaste, no injurious influence on the digestive organs. It has been reported that, during a Paraguayan war, soldiers marched and fought for days with no other sustenance than mate. Taken in native fashion, without sugar, it is said to be a blood purifier.

Madstones Are Believed to Prevent Hydrophobia

Madstone is the name of certain objects believed to have the power of drawing poison from wounds made by mad dogs and venomous snakes. They are supposed to be especially efficacious in preventing hydrophobia or rabies. The United States Department of Agriculture speaks of them as mythical stones, and says their alleged virtues have no scientific foundation, unless it is merely psychological effect.

The hearse stone, which is a billiard ball, is a common form of madstone, according to a writer in the Indianapolis News. Another form is composed of halite, which absorbs moisture with avidity and adheres to a moist surface until nearly saturated. Those who believe in the madstone, test it by touching the patient's forehead with the stone. If it adheres it is genuine, they say. If it drops it is fake.

A possible explanation of time found in the stomach of a deer was once sent to the National Museum as a genuine madstone. On another occasion two half-bred men, with a buffalo's stomach were presented with the statement that one of them had been "madstone" used in the case of the deer. To the same explanation was offered a madstone of "human origin" for the sum of $1.00. It proved to be merely a polished piece of Kentucky river stone.

CHAIR TRICK USED AS STUTTER CURE

Distracting the Attention From Affliction Effective.

Des Moines—If attention of a stammering person be diverted from speech defect, he can be made to like any normal person. Seven years of painstaking effort have proved this fact to Dr. E. Lockhart, professor of psychology, Drake University, and a specialist in curing stutters.

Let a stammering person hold a chair over his head or do anything else that will require concentration, the doctor asserted, and he'll repeat any statement without hesitation. The essence of the theory is the overcoming of "psychological inhibition."

Lockhart performed an experiment on a confirmed stutterer to demonstrate the success of his remedy. Twenty-seven-year-old man, unable to speak normally since he was eight years old, was asked to repeat the sentence, "No, it is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party." The man required three minutes to stammer through the time-worn sentence.

"Now lift this chair over your head," said Lockhart. This done, the man was told to repeat the sentence. He repeated it without the slightest hesitation in a few seconds. After replacing the 40-pound chair on the floor, the man again fell back to stammering.

The subject stuttered simply because he thought he would, the psychologist explained. "The trouble actually is much more complicated than that," he added, "for his mental state or belief is the direct cause. By centering his attention on the chair, the man took care not to drop it and at the same time forgot his speech impediment. A chair or any other device used in this fashion will remedy at least 90 per cent of cases of stuttering."

Lockhart said his remedy dealt only with cases of mental inhibition. In cases where stammering is caused by a tumor, hemorrhage or physical harm, the speech centers are affected and cannot be cured by mental means. He said these cases represented only about 10 per cent of the total number of stammering persons.

The Drake professor frowned on the theory that alteration of blood pressure would help cure stammering. He said persons lying down or bending over would stutter just as though they were standing on their feet or head.

Drive Started to End Study of Odd Fractions

Boston.—Fractions involving fifteenths, nineteenth and other odd-looking numbers may not confuse children of the next generation. Five thousand school children in 30 New England towns and cities are subjects in an experiment to find if fractions are as useless as educators are beginning to believe they are.

Half of the 5,000 will study fractions in the traditional manner, while the remainder will devote their time to the study of merely halves, fourths, thirds, eighths, twelfths and sixteenths. The experiment is being conducted by Dr. Guy M. Wilson, professor of education at Boston University's school of education.

"The average adult out of school uses little arithmetic," Doctor Wilson explains. "The schools teach complicated and difficult arithmetic; the arithmetic outside of school is simple. So it must follow that the schools are teaching more arithmetic than is needed."

"Fractions form only 10 per cent of adult usage. The fraction one-half alone makes up 60 per cent of all adult fractions. Halves with thirds and fourths make up 80 per cent. Few other fractions are needed, occasionally eighths, twelfths or sixteenths in special usage. Beyond this, reading knowledge only is needed."

Father, 98, Has Son, 66, Withdraw Pension Bid

Milwaukee—John (Soda Ash) Horan, 98, a native of Ireland, has withdrawn his bid for a pension for his son, William H. Horan, 66, who is the nation's oldest railroad worker, straightened his shoulders and swore that "as long as there's an ounce of work in my bones no son of mine is going on the county."

His son, William H. Horan, 66, had applied for a county pension. But Soda Ash Johnny ordered the application withdrawn.

"I don't know what's going to come of these kids," Johnny said. "They work for 30 or 40 years, and then they're all played out. So I say, world, ain't it?"

State Anticipates Birth Increase Here To Be 74 in One Year

Albany, Feb. 26—(Special)—According to estimates made by the state department of health, the population of Kingston will be increased over a period of one year with an anticipated total of 28,551 on July 1 of this year, an increase of 74 during the past 12 months.

Ulster county's populace will go up from 86,797 as of July 1, 1935, to 86,971, based on figures used by the department. These figures are exclusive of institutional districts.

In a statement issued today (Friday) by Dr. J. V. DePorte, director of the division of vital statistics, it was pointed out that the population of the state will be increased from 12,226,417 to 12,345,993.

"Under normal conditions," asserted Dr. DePorte, "the arithmetical method produces reasonably satisfactory results. The year following 1930, however, were clearly not normal. The growth of the population has definitely slowed down because of the continued decrease in the birth rate and the almost cessation of foreign immigration.

"These new figures have admitted the single virtue of being, on the whole, less inaccurate than those hitherto used. The division is now investigating the possibility of a permanent solution of this most important problem through the development of sources of local authentic information, by means of which the estimates could be currently modified in keeping with the movement of population."

Selassie Hopes for Sanctions.

Addis Ababa, Feb. 22 (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie, in a message to the Associated Press, expressed hope today that the League of Nations would proceed swiftly with the proposed extension of war penalties against Italy. Regarding the meeting of the League of Nations sanctions committee of 18, called for March 2 at Geneva, the Ethiopian king asserted: "We hope there will be no further delay in the extension of sanctions."

England's Crown Adjusted To Fit King Edward's Head

Just about the first preparation for the coronation of Edward VIII the jewelled crown of the United Kingdom could be made to fit and rest securely on his brow.

London (AP)—King Edward's head has been carefully measured as one of the first steps in preparations for coronation ceremonies to be held next year, possibly in June.

The head measurements were taken to a small factory where the court jewelers will adjust the royal crown to fit.

This is but one item in the task of getting ready for the event. Another is that the "court of claims" must meet to allot coronation duties and hear disputes on privilege.

Claims will be made for the task of tasting the king's wine to see that it isn't poisoned; for the right to challenge to mortal combat anyone who declares the king is not the rightful monarch; for the right to provide a glove for the king's right hand; for the title of 'master of the silver scullery.'

Public interest in the ceremony has already begun to manifest itself. Reservations for seats along the supposed route of the procession are being made, more than a year in advance, with money being paid down in some instances.

Westminster Hospital, which has capitalised on three past coronation ceremonies, is to erect a grandstand seating more than 2,000 persons.

By selling seats at Queen Victoria's coronation the hospital gained $20,000. The crowning of King Edward VII placed $25,000 in the hospital's treasury and $65,000 was netted in 1911 when King George was formally invested with the authority of the throne.

one or two germ tubes which enter it through the breathing pores. Inside they develop through their life cycle using nourishment drawn from the plant, finally breaking through the epidermis as nodules filled with the next generation of spores.

Dr. Humphrey pointed out that the stem rust spores have two stages, red, which normally is found through the summer, and black, which usually appears when the wheat starts to ripen.

Infect Barberry Bush
The black spores will not germinate immediately, but generally remain on straw or stubble throughout the winter and cannot infect grains or grasses. They infect only certain species of the barberry bush which in turn produce the spores dangerous to growing crops.

Because of this peculiarity the rust problem in southern states is a complicated one, Dr. Humphrey said. "In the southern states rust seldom develops on barberry bushes because the black spores are formed in May or early June and cannot survive the long hot summers," he said.

The red spores, however, are produced continuously throughout the year and the life of the rust is, therefore, independent of the barberries in those states.

In northern states the barberry bush is regarded as a distinct menace and a vigorous campaign has been carried on to eradicate it, about 18,000,000 bushes having been destroyed.

Wicks Introduces Bill for Firemen

Albany, Feb. 26—(Special)—A bill by Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston to require cities and villages maintaining a paid fire department to have a two-platoon arrangement has been introduced.

This measure is similar in character to the so-called three-platoon police bill the Kingston Senator sponsored last year, as it changes the requirement of having firemen at the firehouse 24 hours of the day to only 12.

Kingston changed its laws 16 years ago to a similar arrangement and the new bill will not affect the fire department there.

There are some fire departments, however, where the men remain day and night, with time off for meals and vacations. Under the new proposal firemen would be required to be ready for duty only 12 hours of the day except in extreme emergencies.

Your car needs
"Lubricated Starting"

How can your car start fast in winter weather when oil-dry motor parts are stiff from cold? There is only one answer...lubricated starting! And Tydol Gasoline gives it to you at no extra cost.

Tydol contains a special top-cylinder oil and carbon-solvent. The instant the gasoline flashes into action this oil is sprayed on upper cylinders. Valves do not stick. Cylinders fire instantly, steadily. Tydol's famous fast-starting qualities do their stuff. You get away to a split-second start. You keep rolling with full summer power. Buy Tydol today!
